

UUCP has a new YouTube Channel

UUCP has started putting videos of the sermons from our Zoom services and some meditations on our new YouTube channel. This will allow you to view the videos at any time by either going to our channel on YouTube, or clicking on links that we post on the UUCP website, Facebook and Twitter.

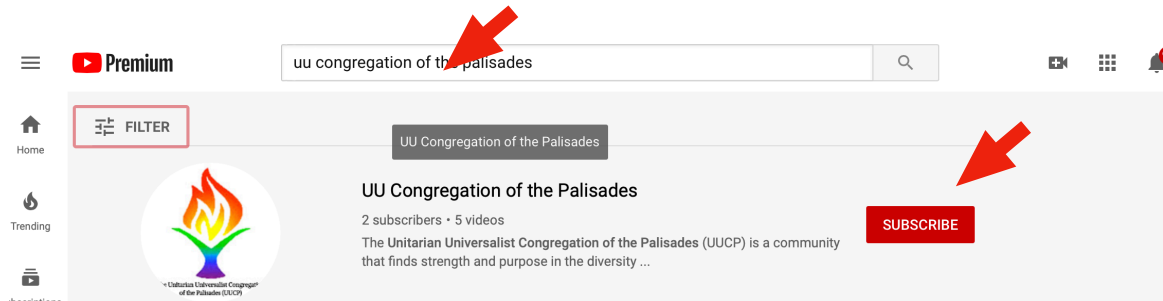

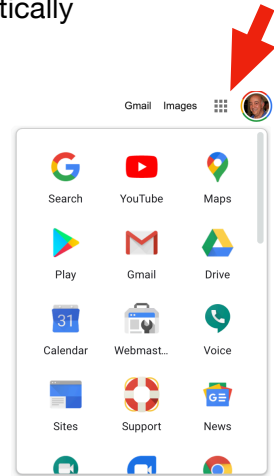

The bonus for joining our YouTube channel — you can get notified automatically whenever a new video from UUCP is posted.

Joining Youtube

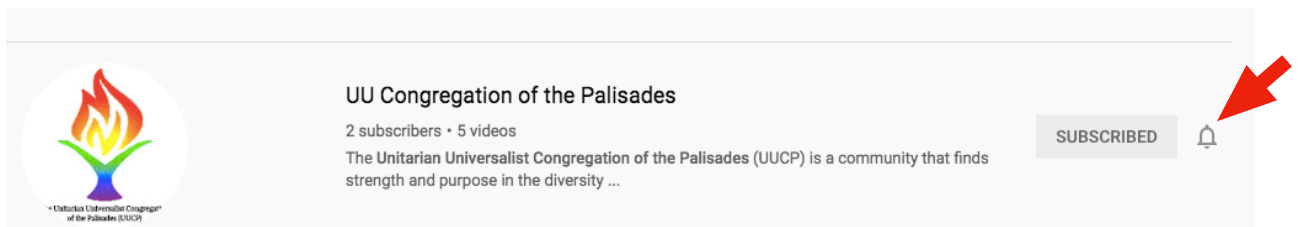

If you have a gmail or google account you automatically have a Youtube account. From Gmail or Google, simply click on the grid of dots in the upper right hand corner of the Google screen and select YouTube from the icons that appear.

If you do not have a Gmail, Google or YouTube account, go to google.com and create an account.

Once you have selected Youtube type “UU Congregation of the Palisades” in the search box at the top, hit the return key, and click on the “Subscribe” button next to our listing.

All our videos are listed. Just click on a video to play it. If you want to be notified when we post new videos, click on the bell next the box that says “Subscribed” and choose “All”.

When you watch one of our videos, please be sure to like it by clicking the “Thumbs Up”. You can also select “Share” to share it with your friends.
